THE CAUSE OF STRIKES.

A HIGHLY IMPORTANT WORK OF THE BUREAU OF LABOR STATISTICS.

Information Relating to Every Strike or Labor Disturbance of Any Importance, Which Has Occurred in the Past Six Years—Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—"This monograph," said Mr. Wright, commissioner of labor, yesterday, "is believed to cover in detail every strike or labor disturbance of any importance which has occurred within the past six years. As may be imagined, its compilation has been a great undertaking, but I think the value of the information will justify the outlay. Our plan in securing the details of strikes which occurred several years ago has been to read old files of the leading journals of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, St. Louis, New Orleans and other large cities, and wherever a strike is referred to we have gathered all the data to be obtained from any source, bearing on it, including the trade journals, in which we have found very fair and impartial accounts. In this way we have secured sufficient facts to enable us to prosecute the work on the ground where the strikes occurred, and thus complete an accurate synopsis of the entire controversy."

"What deduction have you been able to make from the matter you have gathered?"

"We haven't gone very far in that line of conjecture, for all this time I believe any attempt to deduce a rule of action from the experience of the past would be but wasted time and effort. We are now in the midst of what I may call a strike wave, which will pass over in a few years, then, perhaps, we can, by studying the causes and results of these disturbances, come upon some underlying principle by observing which we may avoid them in the future. During the period covered by my report the strike of greatest importance and widest reach in influence was that on the Gould lines of the southwest. The policy and expedients adopted by the labor organizations and by the management of the roads form an interesting study."

A New Boom for Florida.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Florida congressmen and others interested in the growth of the land of flowers bear with delight of the purchase of large sections of land in that state by one of the greatest cigar manufacturing firms of the country. There is a particular part of Florida which has always grown fine tobacco. Gadsden county, before the war, was noted for its fine tobacco, used for cigars. Of late the culture of tobacco in that section, however, had fallen into a state of "immense desuetude." Not long ago a couple of bright young men dropped quietly in there, on a special car, which was quietly backtracked and left to stand several weeks, while the occupants ostensibly hunted and fished and had a good time. In point of fact, though, they were hunting and fishing for bargains. And one fine morning the good citizens of Gadsden county awoke to discover that these quiet young men had scooped in a big lot of land for the big tobacco and cigar manufacturing firm in New York which so much developed the tobacco industry in Wisconsin. This season this firm is planting a thousand acres of its new Florida purchase in tobacco, which it expects will be as good as the expensive and highly taxed Cuban tobacco. There are also great developments in fruit and sugar and gardening and it is believed that a great day is at hand for Florida.

Overworked Government Employees.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—The death of Daniel Manning from overwork while holding a government office—for there is no doubt that overwork in the treasury brought on his illness which resulted fatally—shows something of the injustice of the general and frequently reiterated theory that government officials are not hard workers. The fact is that the conscientious men who have the responsibility of the success or failure of a department or bureau upon their shoulders do work very hard and worry a great deal. Col. Bragg, of the interstate commerce commission, recently said: "I have heard a good many times of people in government employ working themselves to death, but I was always inclined to look upon the story with a good deal of suspicion. But now that I have had some experience in that line I am inclined to think it quite possible. Indeed, I find that it is quite easy for the official who is determined to do his work well to break himself down at it. The demand upon the conscientious government official who has a desire to not only keep up with his work, but to do it well, is greater than the people generally have any idea. I can very easily see how it might happen that a man in a responsible position, in which he felt some pride, might work so hard and such long hours as to literally break himself down."

The Death Roll in Congress.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Congressman Moffatt was the third member of the Fifty-fifth congress who yielded to the grim reaper. Robertson, of Louisiana, was the first, then Kane, of New York, then Moffatt. The average number of deaths in congress is about eight or nine. The largest number that any one congress has had is thirteen. That was the Forty-fourth congress, when such men as Andrew Johnson, Michael Kerr, Caperton, of Virginia, Parsons, of Kentucky, and others were numbered in the list. The last congress, the Forty-ninth, was next in its bereavements, for it lost twelve men, including Vice President Hendricks, who, as presiding officer of the senate, may properly be classed in the list. There have been but two congresses, the Second and Fourth, in which there have not been some deaths. The number of congressmen who have died "in harness" since the first congress was selected under the constitution, is 273.

Sending in Protest.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Protests are being received at the treasury department against the recent reductions in the customs force and the practical discontinuance of some of the smaller ports. It is said that some of the congressmen who voted against any increase of appropriation for the customs service are among the most active in their demands for the restoration of the abolished districts. The annual appropriation of $5,500,000 for the customs service has remained the same for the past fifteen years, while the business has been constantly on the increase. The annual report of the secretary of the treasury has regularly called attention to the fact that this amount is inadequate for the purpose intended, and the members are now hearing what their constituents think of them for their neglect. It is the impression at the department that the discontinuance of the ports will have a good effect on congress. The customs service will doubtless be more liberally appropriated for in the future.

ANOTHER GOVERNOR GONE.

The State of Missouri Loses Her Chief Executive.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Dec. 30.—Governor John S. Marmaduke, of Missouri, died at 9:37 last night at the executive mansion in Jefferson City. He was taken suddenly ill with a cold, which developed into pneumonia. His death was totally unexpected, although he had not been well since last summer, and had spent the fall traveling in Europe for his health.

Governor John S. Marmaduke, aged fifty-four years, was a native of Missouri. After attending Yale and Harvard colleges he entered West Point Military academy in 1853. Graduating four years afterward, he entered a regiment under Gen. A. S. Johnston, but resigned in 1861 and went to Missouri where he organized and commanded a regiment of Missouri state guards. He resigned after the battle of Boonville and entered the Confederate service as first lieutenant, and finally rose to colonel. He was wounded at Shiloh and was then made a brigadier general. In 1863 he fought a duel with Gen. Walker, of Memphis, also a Confederate. At the third shot Walker fell mortally wounded. The trouble was as to who was superior officer. Mr. Marmaduke afterward succeeded to the command, conducted the retreat from Little Rock, and after several battles was captured in 1864, but released in 1865. His reckless bravery was attributed to remorse about Walker's death. He engaged in commercial pursuits at St. Louis and filled several minor state offices. In 1884 he was elected governor by the Democrats.

He will be succeeded in the executive chair by Lieutenant Governor Morehouse.

Mrs. Astor's Will.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—The will of the late Mrs. Charlotte Augusta Astor has been filed with the surrogate. After bequests to relatives and personal friends, she makes the following provisions: Women's Hospital of the State of New York, $25,000; St. Luke's hospital, $25,000; Young Women's Christian association, of this city, $25,000; Children's Aid society, $25,000; for an industrial school on Avenue B, $10,000; Hampton Normal and Agricultural institute, at Hampton, Va., $25,000, and the sum of $25,000 to the Domestic and Foreign Missionary society of the United States of America, one-half to be applied to the education of Indian boys and girls of south Dakota, and the other half to the repair and enlargement of schools in the same district. A number of smaller bequests are made to charitable institutions in this city. The bulk of Mrs. Astor's estate is bequeathed to her husband, John Jacob Astor.

Canal Building Scheme.

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—A meeting of the executive committee appointed by the Illinois improvement convention at Peoria, in October, was held here yesterday afternoon, to determine what action should be taken during the present session of congress to further the waterway connection between Lake Michigan at Chicago and the Mississippi river via the Illinois river. After considerable talk a bill was introduced to be offered to congress. The bill provides for the selection of a commission of five, two to be engineers from the army and three from civil life, the latter to be paid $5,000 a year. The duty of this commission would be to look after the work of making plans and surveys for the canal.

Important Grant From Mexico.

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 30.—William H. McWood, a San Francisco capitalist, returned yesterday from the City of Mexico with papers for one of the largest concessions ever granted by the Mexican government. The concession is a right of way for a railroad to commence at Tepic, state of Jalisco, and run northwest to Mazatlan on the coast, in the state of Sinaloa, thence northwest through that state, touching a number of important cities, to connect with the Southern Pacific road at Yuma, A. T. The new line will be somewhat circular, forming a belt line that will tap one of the largest and richest mining regions in the world.

WATCHING THE ANARCHISTS.

The Chicago Police Say Nothing Can Be Done but What Is Known to Them.

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—The statement made by Mrs. Lucy Parsons to a newspaper reporter, the other day, that hereafter it would be impossible for any police spies or Pinkerton operators to become acquainted with the secret doings of the Anarchists, does not appear to give any uneasiness to the leading police officials of the city. One of the latter said this morning that it would be impossible for the revolutionary groups to again organize without the knowledge of the authorities; that the movements of those prominently connected with the Most party were still being carefully watched, and that anything approaching agency in a new revolutionary movement would be impossible.

The auditing committee of the Anarchist Defense fund held a session to-day for the purpose of passing upon the accounts of the treasurer for the present year. His statement shows receipts of $11,878; disbursements, $11,485, leaving a balance of $393. This, added to the relief fund, gives the committee a total cash in hand of $5,890.

Thirty-Two Degrees Below Zero.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 30.—The thermometer was 30 degrees below zero at 7 a. m. It is a typical Minnesota day, clear and still. No serious delays to travel are reported. In Dakota the weather is much colder, and there is more interruption to business. Watertown reports 32 degrees below.

An Advance in Freight Rates.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 30.—A 10 per cent. advance in the freight rates of the fourth, fifth and sixth classes from this point, east and west will go into effect January 1.

LATEST LABOR TROUBLES.

A THOUSAND KNIGHTS SECEDE FROM THE ORDER.

The Reading Troubles in a Daily Muddled Condition—A General Strike Ordered, But Not as Yet Obeyed—Trouble Among the New York Cigarmakers.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—The Knights of Labor in this city are indignant with Mr. Corbin and Superintendent Sweigard, whom they accuse of bad faith. According to their statement the committee of the knights were given to understand by Mr. Corbin that all the strikers would be taken back to work, and Mr. Sweigard, acting under those instructions, gave the order.

Subsequently he issued another order that the leaders, who number about four hundred, should not be re-employed. The committee thereupon decided to call out all the men again, and prepared the telegrams to the various sections. But the telegraph authorities, they say, positively refused to send the dispatches of the committee over the wires.

Dispatches from points along the line of the Reading railroad poured in to-day upon Austin Corbin, advising him that matters were going on as smoothly as could be expected. After reading a number of these telegrams, Mr. Corbin assumed the aggressive. He sent the following order to Archibald A. McLeod, general manager of the company at Philadelphia:

"To each of our old employees who have stood manfully and faithfully by us we feel obliged and thankful, and we shall not forget them, but the time has now arrived when all of our employees will be required to decide whether they expect to retain their places by reason of honest and faithful service and prompt obedience to the orders of the company that employs and pays them, or by blind obedience to the direction of the Knights of Labor, through which organization the leaders hope to coerce us into the employment of men who considered their first obedience due to that order. The men that stand by us will have employment with reasonable hours and good pay—as much as is paid by any other corporation of a similar character. Men who do not will never be allowed on the road again under any circumstances. We have never objected to labor organizations and do not now. Every man shall be free to belong to one, or not, as he pleases, but the heads of such orders can not and shall not dictate to this company as to whom it shall employ or how it shall operate its property. Places that are left in obedience to orders of the Knights of Labor, will be filled with new men, and such new men will be retained."

Timothy P. Quinn Placed in Charge.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Timothy Putnam Quinn, of District Assembly 49 and the Home club, has been placed in charge of the Reading strike by the officers of the General Assembly, Knights of Labor. When asked to-day if it was true that he had been given charge of the workmen's side of the fight, and what course he intended to pursue, Mr. Quinn said he did not think it was the business of the public to pry into the relationship which existed between him and the members of the organization to which he belonged.

"However, he continued, 'you can rest assured that this fight against the tyranny of corporation power has only just begun, and that it will prove one of the hardest fought and important struggles of workmen to obtain their rights. Mr. Corbin made a mistake when he attempted to split the backbone of the strike by inducing the men to return to work under promise of arbitrating their demands and doing justice by them and then violating his word. This has made the men more bitter, and you can rest assured that they will be given all the assistance possible in their struggle for justice.'

From Pottsville, Pennsylvania.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 30.—Although the leaders of the Knights of Labor declare that there is a general strike on the Reading road, there is no interruption of traffic here. The leaders appear discomfited and disheartened. Port Richmond employees went out yesterday on an order transmitted to the various local assemblies along the line of the road.

Chairman Lee, of the executive committee of Reading employees, has issued a circular to the knights and the public. He says that owing to the declaration of Superintendent Sweigard that he would wipe the order out, the men must fight. The miners will stand by the railroaders, and it will take a great deal of money to wipe out the knights.

A Thousand Knights Secede.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 30.—Local Assembly No. 10,235, comprising all the men in this city engaged in passenger traffic on the Reading railroad, including telegraph operators and numbering over one thousand men, met last night, surrendered its charter and disbanded. They preferred to leave the order rather than obey an order to strike which they expected to receive.

New York Cigarmakers Agree to Strike.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—There will be 2,000 cigarmakers on strike in this city next week. The cigar manufacturers' association have agreed to support the local manufacturers in the fight against the men.

Train Robbers Arrested.

VERNAL, Utah, Dec. 30.—L. U. King and J. I. Matthews, two of the four train robbers that went through Denver & Rio Grande passenger trains near Grand Junction last October and secured considerable booty from the mail car, were arrested here yesterday. Government officers are pursuing the other two through the mountains, with good prospects of securing them in a few days.

Denver Gamblers Must Go.

DENVER, Col., Dec. 30.—Mayor Lee has started the sporting fraternity by the announcement that he would issue an order on Saturday closing all gambling houses, large and small. This will affect probably one hundred and fifty faro and poker rooms. The laws against gambling houses have never been enforced here, and this new crusade is a surprise to the sporting fraternity.

LATEST NEWS FROM HAWAII.

Insurrection Narrowly Averted—Kala's Throne Again Threatened.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30.—Private advices received here from members of the Hawaiian legislature say that were it not for the presence of the English and American men-of-war in the harbor an outbreak would undoubtedly have occurred on the assembly of the legislature December 19.

Minister Ashford brought out the Honolulu Rifles with the intention of subverting the government at once, but the success of the design was prevented by the officers of the vessels, whose threats stopped the proposed insurrection before any sanguinary trouble occurred. The king's vetoes are among the chief features of contention. Their legality, however, and the validity of the constitution will be sustained without a doubt, as the king has the majority of the supreme court. The liquor and police bill, which had been passed by the legislature were returned then with the king's veto. The ministers hope to have S. F. Dole placed on the bench as a fifth judge.

The king has put in trust to pay his debts, which amounts to $250,000, exclusive of $71,000 due a Chinese merchant, which was paid to the king as a bribe to obtain a license for the sale of opium, all his real estate, which consists of a life interest in the crown lands and also lands which he owns in fee simple, save two or three small parcels. The trustees are J. O. Carter, S. M. Darnen and Curtis Zankow. All bills are to be presented within three months and the dividends are to be declared monthly. The title papers have all been recorded.

A letter from one of the legislators says if the king does not assent to the acts of the present legislature he will be deposed and a provisional government substituted. So limited is the state of these islands that those most concerned in the kingdom's prosperity are favoring annexation to the United States and the feeling in this respect is spreading among all classes.

DREADFUL DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

A Husband Slays His Wife and Her Lover and Then Burns the House.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 30.—News of a bloody tragedy was received from St. Francis, Ark., yesterday. It appears that William Herrig, a wealthy planter, became jealous of his young wife and William Mathewson, and forbade Mathewson to come to the house.

Mathewson, however, drove to the house and asked Mrs. Herrig to go driving with him, which she intended doing, when Herrig came out with a shotgun and shot Mathewson dead and ordered his wife to drive him home. When she returned home she found the house in flames and her husband standing at the door, when, seeing her, he fired two shots, killing her instantly. Mrs. Herrig was an actress previous to her marriage, and belonged to the Pauline Markham company; was also with W. H. Lytell. Herrig escaped, but officers are on his trail.

Riot on a Passenger Train.

WHEELING, W. Va., Dec. 30.—A serious riot occurred on a passenger train on the Chesapeake & Ohio railway, near Hinton, Monday night, in which several persons were badly, one of them fatally, wounded. A party of half a dozen men under the influence of liquor boarded the train at Madison station, and attempted to take possession. Conductor Frank Atkinson shot one of the men in the abdomen, when the brother of the wounded man pushed a pistol into the conductor's mouth and shot his tongue out. Brakeman William Netherland was struck on the head and disabled, and a colored man was shot through the body.

An Imposter.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—The World says: The dispatch from San Francisco stating that the inventor of the Babcock fire extinguisher had died there in an alms house is incorrect. Charles F. Hayward & Company, of this city, who own the Babcock fire extinguisher patent, say this same man gained similar notoriety three years ago, when he entered the California alms house, but that he is not the inventor of the extinguisher, or any relation to him. Charles F. Babcock, a Boston chemist, they say, invented the Babcock extinguisher in 1867. He is still alive, and is supposed to be a rich man.

Don't Want Randall.

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—The Andrew Jackson league, which includes in its membership some of the leading Democrats in Chicago, last night adopted a preamble declaring that Samuel J. Randall "has always been inimical to the true interests of the Democratic party in their endeavors to inaugurate tariff reform," and closing with a resolution requesting Speaker Carlisle not to appoint on the appropriation committee "the said Samuel J. Randall, possessor of the gerrymandered Republican district, the tool of Pennsylvania monopoly," and thus "drive the subsidized Republican spy into the Republican camp."

Shortening Time.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 30.—General Solicitor Bunker, of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad company, says that the company will build a road to Redondo Beach, sixteen miles southwest of Los Angeles, to be in running order March 1. The Pacific Steamship company will have fast line steamers from San Francisco to that point, making the trip in twenty hours. The company will ship its freight from that point.

Hanged by a Dynamite Carriage.

TIPPIN, O., Dec. 30.—An eleven-year-old son of John H. Ridgeway played with a dynamite cartridge yesterday and it exploded, blowing off one hand and cutting an eye badly. A younger brother was also badly wounded in the leg.

The Dyke at Montreal.

MONTREAL, Dec. 30.—The water in the river has risen two feet since yesterday. There is every indication that the dyke built to prevent a recurrence of the damaging floods of previous years will have a severe test.

Smuggler Sentenced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Paul Bodon, of San Francisco, who was convicted of smuggling $4,500 worth of diamond jewelry and fancy goods, has been sentenced to a year's imprisonment.

That Bridge Street Crossing.

The "Bridge-street-crossing" trouble has not yet been settled. At least, so far as the public is informed, nothing has yet been done towards remedying the threatened obstruction. But what can be done? Colonel Childe, chief engineer of the road, very coolly insists that the crossing has been placed at the height specified in the ordinance—eleven feet from the bottom of the rail to the ground. True, but he may as well learn now as later on that the people of Mayville are not going to allow him or his company to let iron-girders down below the railstone foot, two feet or any number of feet, if those girders are so placed as to obstruct travel over the street beneath. Said crossing was the subject of discussion at many meetings of the citizens' committee and the committee appointed by council, at several of which Mr. Childe himself was present. The height of the crossing was the point at issue, and we are informed by reliable authority that measurements were ordered taken of the height of street cars, wagons, loaded and empty, omnibuses loaded and empty, and other vehicles. Colonel Childe was given to understand, we are told, that the railroad must be constructed at that point so as not to interfere with free travel over the street. The conclusion arrived at from a discussion of the subject at these meetings was that "eleven feet in the clear" was the least that could be allowed. We are assured that was the understanding reached, and it seems the members of council, with one exception probably, so understood the matter when they passed the ordinance. Shall the railroad company be permitted to override the council, the committee and the public in general by slipping an ordinance through giving it rights and privileges never intended? If the company has any right to throw girders across the street two feet below the bottom of the rails, it has the right to drop them to the ground below and completely block the thoroughfare. Where would be the difference? The one is only a partial, the other a complete interference with the travel over the street. Does Colonel Childe and his company imagine for a moment they have any right or would be allowed to entirely block Bridge street at that point? If not, then what right has he to partially obstruct travel, as he is on the point of doing? He has gone forward with his eyes open, but it is not too late for him to retreat. What we say is not prompted by any ill will towards him or his company. The Bulletin has ever favored and encouraged the railroad, but it can not remain quiet and see a great injury done to the city.

One of three things will have to be done. The grade of the railroad will have to be raised, or a "depressed road" at the side of the street made, or else a fill will have to be constructed so as to allow travel over the railroad instead of under it. The first is conceded to be the preferable way out of the trouble. If that can not done—but a competent civil engineer says it can—then the fill will be much better than the "depressed road."

The Chief of the Fire Department at Lexington says that this year up to date the department has made 105 runs, with a loss amounting to $21,200, against fifty-four runs last year, with a loss of $25,600.

There are 568 criminal cases on the docket of the Fayette Circuit Court, the charges ranging from murder down to the lowest offense of which the court has jurisdiction. A special term has been called for January 7th to dispose of the civil docket.

The current opinion at Washington City is to the effect that the present session of Congress will adopt some measure to reduce the heavy revenues which are increasing the surplus every day. Both the great political parties see the necessity for such action and acknowledge it. Why should a settlement of the matter be longer delayed?

Correction.

To the Voters of the Fifth Ward, Gentlemen:—In the last issue of the Daily Republican I noticed an article headed "The City Candidates," in which I was mentioned as a Democratic candidate for Councilman. Please say in reply in your valuable paper I am not running on party matters, nor am I connected in any way with any gas company, or railroad. I am for Fifth ward and its interests. Respectfully, PAUL G. TAYLOR.

OUR OWN.

The little child that sits beside our feet
May rob us of our strength and rest so sweet,
And cause our way with care to be thick strewn;
And yet we love our own.

There may be fairer lands and brighter skies,
There may be friends more faithful or more wise,
Than any we have ever seen or known;
But each will love his own.

THE SNAPPING OF STRINGS.

Troubles of an Orchestra Man—The Uttering Arm of the Violinist—Style.

Listeners at orchestral concerts, who have been annoyed, as many were at the last Thomas rehearsal, by the incessant snapping of strings, have often wondered if there was not some way to prevent such accidents. If there were such a way the listener might be assured that Theodore Thomas would not endure with such patience the noisy interruption to the music that occurs every now and then in his orchestra. It is an accident that it is impossible to prevent by any means yet known to players. It arises, of course, from the wearing out of the E string, and yet a new string that seems perfectly sound may snap within five minutes after it has been stretched upon the instrument. It is largely due to atmospheric conditions. On damp days the strings in an orchestra are much more likely to snap than upon others. Some players are more likely, also, to meet with this accident than others, because of perspiration at the fingers' ends. This will tend constantly to throw the E string, and the others also, out of tune, and eventually to make the string too susceptible to the strain to which it is subjected.

Another matter which frequently excites uninformed listeners is the endurance which violinists manifest in bowing their instruments. It seems to the spectator as if the constant strain of bowing would tire a man after an hour and a half of playing so that he could not go through another piece. As a matter of fact, the arm of a violinist is rarely weary of the exercise, but he is, nevertheless, very susceptible to fatigue in another direction. His sensitive part is the ends of the fingers of the left hand. An ordinary concert, or an opera even, through which the violinists have to play almost uninterruptedly, does not bring any special strain upon the fingers, but several successive days of playing tend to make them sore. This of course will react upon the quality of the performance, and directors recognizing this, frequently forbid the members of their orchestra to play in other bands.

When William Gericke took charge of the Boston symphony orchestra he created a great sensation and greater discontent by making his musicians bind themselves by a cast iron contract not to play in any other organization or concert during the entire season. The reason for this action was not alone that musicians may injure their style by playing under different leaders, but because the constant demand for players from the famous orchestras will tend to keep them so active day after day as to make their fingers particularly sensitive to the action of the strings upon them, and thus mar the fine effects of the playing in a symphony concert.

A Drunken Father's Awful Deed.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 30.—John North, aged forty-two years, returned to his home, on South Twenty-fifth street, last night under the influence of liquor. Soon after entering the house, he picked a quarrel with his wife, who was nursing their three months' old child. He became so enraged that he rushed upon her and aimed a powerful blow at her face, but as she turned to avoid it, the stroke fell upon the head of the child, crushing its skull and causing almost instant death. The horrible act shocked the man, and he became frantic with grief, and offered no resistance when he was arrested. Mrs. North was also taken into custody.

Trouble in the Knights of Pythias.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 30.—Knights of Pythias in this city and state are excited over a dispute between the Supreme Lodge of the United States and the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, which threatens to be carried into the courts before it is settled. The Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania claims the right of self-government for itself and its lodges, but this is denied by the Supreme Lodge. There are 40,000 members in this state, of which number 17,000 reside in this city. They are a unit in support of the position taken by the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania.

Liability to Dismissal.

New York, Dec. 30.—The Tribune says that Internal Revenue Collector John A. Sullivan, of the Second district, and all the officers under him have rendered themselves liable to dismissal under section 1784, revised statutes, which prohibits gifts by government employees to their superior officers. Mr. Sullivan received a $300 gold watch and chain as a Christmas present from his subordinates. He says he did not know of the existence of the statute, and he will at once return the gift, and let the boys dispose of it as they see fit.

A Big Law Suit.

St. Paul, Dec. 30.—A big law suit over 250 acres of land in west St. Paul has arisen from conflicting claims. The tract was once a lake which has dried up. Settlers have tried to pre-empt it, but the United States government has refused to make it public. The state claims it, and adjoining property owners also. Late in the week it was learned that Mr. Hill, of the Manitoba road, had located the land with scrip. His claim will be opposed by the owners. The land is worth $1,000,000.

Commencing a Big Suit.

LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 30.—The attorney general yesterday commenced proceedings in the supreme court, to declare the franchise of the former Atchison & Nebraska road forfeited, calling on the road to appoint three trustees to take charge of the road, sell the franchise, pay the liabilities and turn the balance into the school fund, as the law provides.

Senator Sawyer's Opinion of Lamar.

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—A special from Oshkosh says: Senator Sawyer, in an interview here last night denied that he had promised the president to support Lamar for the supreme bench. He thinks, however, that Lamar is an honest man and as good a one as can be found in his section for filling the position.

Senator Voorhees Will Take a Part.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 30.—Senator Voorhees has volunteered to defend the Democratic politicians charged with forging tally sheets, and his proffer of service has been accepted. Judge Montgomery, of Washington, connected with the court of claims, and three or four others of less prominence, have offered to assist in the defense.

SICK and bilious headache cured by Dr. Pierce's "Pellets."

Mrs. MOLLIE SHAFER has gone, to Chattanooga, Tenn., to join her husband.

Dr. T. O. EVANS has left Flemingsburg, and will practice hereafter at Louisville.

Mrs. J. B. NOYES, who has been very ill for the past day or two, was some better this morning.

CHARLES BUSH and Hattie Bealer, a colored couple, were granted marriage license this morning.

W. B. LITER has conveyed to Mary Litter all his interest in the estate of his deceased father, Mathias Litter.

Mr. GEORGE W. VANTINE and Miss Louise Cahlish were married last evening at the residence of the bride's parents, in OHIO.

ROBERT M. LUMAN and Miss Linnie Sears were married last evening at the home of the bride in Chester, by Rev. W. S. Priest.

THE statement is made that it will take three months yet to complete the work on the new railroad at and near Bradford, Bracken County.

THE annual meeting of the Mason County Building and Saving Association will be held to-morrow evening at seven o'clock in the Council Chamber. Notice is published elsewhere.

J. D. THOMPSON, of Chester, has been very ill for several days with consumption. Mr. Thompson was a former citizen of Wilson Bottom, and represented Lewis County in the Legislature some years ago.

HENRY CONNER, a former citizen of Maysville, died a few days ago in the hospital at Cincinnati from burns received Christmas day. Like too many others his love of liquor was his ruin. He was burned while on a drunken spree.

THE hop given last night at Neptune Hall by Messrs. C. T. Brown, M. J. Lynch, James Downey and others was a success socially and financially. A large crowd was present, including many couples from Paris, Carlisle and other points. The Maysville Orchestra furnished delightful music, and the ladies and gentlemen danced to their heart's content. The entertainment was a pleasant one, and was one of the enjoyable events of the holiday season.

HENRY SCHROEDER, fifty-five years of age, living in Maysville, Ky., came to the city a few days ago and obtained from the Seaside Agency, on Vine street, $200, that had been sent to him from the old country. No sooner had he obtained the money, than he went on a big drunk, and when he was found later on he hadn't a penny of it left. Later it was learned that Schroeder had paid several bills with the money and had about $75 when he began his debauch.—Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette.

Hops and Hops.

The leap-year party which was announced for next Monday night at St. Charles Hotel will not be given, on account of so many of the young ladies and gents returning to school before that date.

The Maysville Assembly, however, will give a dance on that night in the handsome parlors at Miss Nancy Wilson's home, corner of Third and Sutton. The Augusta, Mayslick and Washington assemblies are invited to attend.

Frozen Over.

The ice in the river gorged at Beasley's Bar and Brook's Bar yesterday. Last night the gorge at Beasley moved down some, but it remains firm to-day and pedestrians were crossing this morning. The skaters have also made their appearance.

The closing of the river has caught Maysville with a very small supply of coal. In fact the coal merchants have none for sale. They have some on hand, but not sufficient to supply the orders. The situation is bad enough, but it might be worse.

Personal.

Miss Emma Eitel, of Pleasant Hill, is the guest of Miss Katie Dersch.

Miss Blanche Wilson, of Aberdeen, accompanied by her sister, Miss Maude Wilson, returned from Middletown, O., last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Barrett, who have been the guest of John Kirk, returned to their home at Cincinnati, yesterday on the noon train.

Over-worked Women.

For "worn out" "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being almost potent specific for all those chronic weaknesses and diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nerve, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00 a bottle or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on diseases of women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood cuts, sent for ten cents in stamps.

A Panic-Stricken Congregation.

A special from Manchester, O., says about fifteen or twenty Lewis County rongs made an attack upon a church a few nights ago, breaking in doors and windows. The church is of the Methodist denomination, and is located about three miles from Manchester, in Lewis County. Religious services were being held at the time. The congregation became panic-stricken. Every window and door was completely demolished, and a number bruised and hurt to some extent. The services were broken up, leaving the mob in charge. Warrants were sworn out for the arrest of the parties but they had fled, and a large majority are still at large on the Ohio side of the river. The warrants have been transferred, and some three or four of the rowdies have been arrested and are now confined in the city jail at Manchester to await further action by those in authority.

Temperance Movement at Morehead.

A temperance revival was started at Morehead Christmas night, under the leadership of L. L. Abbott, of Lexington. One hundred and twenty persons have donned the blue ribbon. A permanent organization was organized, with the following officers: President, G. A. Johnson; First Vice President, Mrs. R. E. Button; Second Vice President, Amos Johnson; Secretary, Rev. T. C. Button; Treasurer, James W. Johnson; Chorister, Mrs. Laura Logan; Executive Committee, Judge T. B. Tippet, Hiram Pigman, B. F. Culver, Lulu B. Martin and Mrs. D. Nichols.

The Secretary, Rev. T. C. Button, is a minister of the Christian Church, and was present at the State meeting in this city last August.

"Monte Cristo."

A thoroughly excellent performance of the play of "Monte Cristo," founded on Alexander Dumas' great novel, "The Count of Monte Cristo," was given by the Benedict company to a large and demonstrative audience, at Harper's theatre last night. Mr. Alden Benedict, an actor of commanding ability, gave an exceedingly strong and well sustained impersonation of Edward Dantes, and was admirably supported by Miss Sarah Parker as Mercedes, Mr. J. K. Yerson as Danglars, Mr. George Denton as Ferdinand and Mr. S. Coleman as Villefort, while the other parts were in good hands. The two special scenes, Chatcau d'If and the Mercier scene, added no little to the impressiveness of the performance. Rock Island Daily Union, December 8th.

At opera house, Thursday night, January 5th. Admission—parquette, 75 cents; parquette circle, 50 cents; balcony, 35 cents; gallery, 25 cents. Reserved seats in parquette circle, 75 cents.

A Sensation at Carlisle.

A special says there was a free-for-all fight at Sallie Fleming's bawdy house in Carlisle a few evenings ago. There were about a dozen men and women in the house at the time, and some twenty shots were fired in all. Harry Morford, a young lawyer of Carlisle, and Harry James, a Kentucky Central employe at Paris, were both shot in the arm. James has a wife and several children and is well connected at Paris. The affair has very naturally created a sensation at both places. Warrants are out for the parties, but they have skipped.

County Court Proceedings.

Rev. D. D. Chapin was authorized to perform the marriage ceremony. Bond executed with L. W. Robertson surety. Dan Ferrine was appointed committee of Granville Clement, and executed bond with W. W. Ball surety.

John F. Collopy was appointed Constable in Mayslick precinct and qualified with John Connell surety.

An inventory and appraisement of the personal estate of Aquilla Chamberlain, deceased, was filed and ordered recorded.

Former Maysville Negro in Trouble.

Charley Adams, colored, attended a Christmas entertainment at Augusta last Monday night. He was drunk and tried to raise a row. Newton Yancey, a friend, attempted to take him home, and while en route, was accidentally shot by Adams. Yancey died the next day. Adams fled and is still at large. He is a hotel waiter and formerly lived in this city.

"January & Wood Company."

Articles of incorporation of the "January & Wood Company" have been recorded in the County Clerk's office. The incorporators are R. A. Cochran, Horace January, A. January Grundy and James Barbour, executors of Andrew M. January, and B. W. Wood, the latter of Louisville.

The object is to continue the business of the Maysville Cotton Mills—the manufacture of cotton yarns, carpet chamo, rope, twine, &c. Capital stock $200,000, in 2,000 shares of $100 each—all paid in by January & Wood. The business will be conducted by two directors who shall act as President and Secretary. B. W. Wood is President and R. A. Cochran Secretary. The indebtedness shall not exceed $50,000 at one time.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

TUCKAHOE.

May peace ever attend,
 And thy cup overflow
 With joy in the years that are fleeting:
 To stranger and friend,
 Does our fair Tuckahoe
 Send to all, this, her Christmas greeting.

A masquerade party "chook full," of pleasure and amusement was given by Mr. and Mrs. John E. Bouldin at their home on Wednesday evening.

Christmas will soon be gone, but will leave its benisons on many hearts made happy by the friendly offerings, and social reunions of "Old Santa's" propitious reign.

Mont. B. Pickett, the young prince of railroad employes, of Atlanta, Ga., made a flying visit to Tuckahoe, recently, on his way to Cincinnati, to confer with Superintendent Barnes on business.

R. L. Bacon, one of our oldest tobacco dealers has made a sale of his entire purchase to H. Worthington, of Covington, at a net profit of $22,000. We congratulate him upon his good luck.

A very pleasant entertainment, consisting of recitations, songs, and other enjoyable features, was given a few evenings ago by Miss Kate Mitchell and her pupils, at their school-room on "the Ridge."

Elder J. A. Holton, of Hopewell, Ill., who was called to officiate at the marriage of his sister, Miss Sallie Holton, and M. E. Eliah Lloyd, is spending a few days with friends and relatives in the neighborhood.

The Daughters' College girls, who returned to their respective homes on Friday last for the purpose of hanging up their stockings, and spending the holiday, will leave on Monday next for Harrodsburg with their stockings well filled.

One of the most delectable entertainments that it has been our good fortune to attend, was given by the Kitchen Belle Club on Tuesday evening at the home of the fascinating Miss Julia Worthington, daughter of S. M. Worthington, of Fari Leal.

Lovers of pleasure could not possibly have been more agreeably entertained than was the elite company of the seventy or eighty honored guests, who were present. The repast furnished under the supervision of Mrs. W., the artistic "mistress of the cuisine," the recitative announcements, the bold waltzes of chivalrous beaux, the whirling responses of winsome belles, blending with the soft strains of sweet music, all combined to make "a feast of reason and a flow of soul" that will long survive in tender recollection the twilight of many fading memories.

The long-looked-for wedding, elsewhere noted in this correspondence, has transpired, and with some of its accompanying links and circumstances is relegated to history in the following verses of our Tuckahoe bard:

ELIJAH, THE PROPHET.
 Elijah came out of the West one day,
 To the region of Tuckahoe;
 He was led, like the prophet of old, in the way
 That the spirit had bidden him go.

Yet not as the seer of old was he sent
 To foretell, a great drouth—oh no;
 But the current opinion is now, that he went
 Just to show them that he would reign beau.

There were ravins about him, day and night,
 While with "ladys" he was fed;
 And the lassies all wanted to take their flight
 To the place where the profit was led.

They prayed and they gambled his favor to win,
 And one of them made a "throw,"
 But their wiles were all taken by one of her kin,
 And to Japhin she found "twas no go."

A camel came heavily laden with brass,
 As they say, to Tuckahoe;
 But could show the offering was useless, alas!
 For he was not by another was no go.

He was offered bacon but he wouldn't bite,
 Yet the reason never stated;
 I wonder if it was, "you'll think I'm right
 When I say he was gallicated."

They nobly essayed his disease to abate
 For their happiness it alloyed;
 But for hisly won, and would now proudly state
 That its happiness, too, is a-loyd.

L. X. ANDER.

IN MEMORIAM.

On the night of December 21, 1887, at his home near Mayslick, Mason County, Ky., Mr. Robert Bedford, at the age of sixty-two years, passed away from earth to his reward. His death was unexpected, as he was sick only a few days, but it did not find him unprepared. He was calm and undisturbed in prospect of death.

He made a public profession of his faith in Christ, and united with the Presbyterian church at Mayslick, February 18, 1872, and from his upright walk, his chaste conversation, all who knew him were made to feel that he was a true child of God. Every conversation that his pastor was privileged to have with him in regard to the church, or on the subject of religion, revealed his deep interest in the whole matter. He was an intelligent christian, and with his head, as well as with his heart, did he accept the doctrines of our beloved church. He was ever true to his convictions, and the light he loved his church and was faithful as a member. The gospel was ever "good news" to him. "To do justice and love mercy" was the great object of life with him; all who knew him will testify to his readiness to relieve the afflicted and to supply the wants of the needy. He was gentle in his expressions and charitable to the faults of others. He was true and faithful to his friends, kind and hospitable to all who came to his home. He was modest and retiring, and those who knew him well were those who loved and respected him most. Mr. Bedford spent much of his early life in Bourbon County, and also around Blue Lick Springs. He spent many years in Lewis County, where he was greatly honored and respected as a citizen and loved by his neighbors. His last years were spent in Mason County, and to say all in a few words, with one voice testify that in his death we have lost one of our best and most honorable citizens, who was true and faithful in every relation in life, and held in the greatest esteem by all who knew him.

He leaves a devoted wife and two adopted daughters to mourn the loss of an kind and gentle husband and father as any family was ever blessed with. And as a true husband and father, he leaves a precious memory in the home circle.

His work here on earth is done. Our heavenly Father, and his Father, has called him to Himself in glory. Then, why should we mourn for him who has passed into "the glorious home in glory?" He is safe, he is happy with his Savior. The bereaved wife and daughters have the heartfelt sympathies of the church and the community in their grief and bereavement. May the God of all grace give them peace, and comfort, their hearts richly in Christ Jesus, our Lord. W. T. S. Mayslick, Ky., December 27, 1887.

THAT LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.

Response From "The Home Literary Circle."

To Mr. L. W. Galbraith:—Your letter suggesting "A Library Association," is certainly a felt need in our city. There are many in our community who have a desire to read and cultivate their minds, but have few books, and little or no means to procure libraries of their own. They would gladly avail themselves of such a privilege as membership in a circulating library.

Does not the mind need food and fuel as well as the body for its growth and preservation?

No! Public Library in the city, no Lyceum, no literary center, a startling announcement to strangers, that Maysville so up in public spirit in other respects should be wanting in this literary regard for public benefit. In general enterprise we keep pace with the times. Business, social and religious movements are alive to every advancement of the age. Are we not aroused to the deplorable fact of such a void in our intellectual status, and willing to aid such an enterprise? Mr. Galbraith's timely suggestion should be encouraged as a wise movement.

We as one of the Literary Circles heartily approve the suggestion to organize such an association, and will co-operate in a plan as worthy and elevating as this public institution would be in our midst.

INDIGNATION AROUSED.

SUCH IS THE FEELING IN IRELAND AT THE PRESENT TIME.

Mr. Balfour Determined to Pursue His Plan of Prosecution to the End—Emperor William Not Dead—Peace Assured Between Austria and Russia.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—The continuance of the government's policy of arresting the editors of Irish newspapers publishing reports of league meetings, has aroused a feeling of indignation among those who have all along believed that the course of the Irish secretary in the matter was directed only toward certain persons, but who now see that the intention of Mr. Balfour is to pursue his plan of prosecution to the end.

Precisely what good can come to the Irish cause from the defendant publication of reports that are already in possession of the people most interested in them through their attendance at the meetings reported, with the result of consigning men to jail who ought to be at liberty and at work in behalf of the cause in more effective ways, it is difficult to see, and it is to be hoped that the actual leaders of the Irish party and the league will make haste to abolish the practice. The persistent printing of these prohibited reports, which after all amount to nothing, can be at the best merely a matter of pride, and when it becomes quite plain, as it now has, that the violators of the executive proclamation in this regard are certain to be removed from a field of usefulness for one, two or three months each, without having accomplished anything for their cause by their defiance of the law, their acts are stripped of the elements of patriotism and become mere child's play.

This practice, it will be remembered, is one of the several which Mr. Parnell in a recent interview expressed himself as not entirely in sympathy with, and it has lately been the subject of remark that he has not since and more powerfully raised his voice against it. Even those who are at this late day moved to indignation at the uncompromising attitude of the government toward these, in some respects, misguided editors clearly see that the Home Rule cause and not the government is being weakened by the unequal and unproductive fight, and freely express the opinion that its continuance will result in Mr. Parnell and his immediate lieutenants finding some of the most important of the Irish leaders in jail at a critical moment in the near future, when their country's needs demand their presence in parliament and at other posts of duty.

Peace Between Austria and Russia.
LONDON, Dec. 30.—A Berlin dispatch says that Austria, yielding to the pressure of certain friendly powers, has made advances to Russia by which peace is assured. Prince Lobanoff, Russian ambassador to Berlin, has assured Count Kalnoky that Russia means peace and that the concentration of Russian troops on the Galician frontier is not intended to be offensive.

Emperor William Not Dead.
BERLIN, Dec. 30.—Emperor William is not dead. He devoted several hours to public business yesterday and is in his usual health.

A Collision Which Barely Comes Off Without Loss of Life.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 30.—The cannon ball express on the Albert Lea route, leaving Chicago at 12:05 p. m., was wrecked at Ely, Ia., twelve miles from Cedar Rapids, at 2:30 a. m. yesterday. A heavy drift of snow stopped the train at Ely, and while the track was being cleared, a heavy freight engine with a caboose attached, ran into the rear of the buffet coach, telescoping it and sending the second or rear sleeper into the first as far as the toilet room and turning over the stove. By prompt action of the passengers and conductor the fire was put out before doing any damage. The other coaches were jammed together, and the second engine converted into a wreck. The freight engine and buffet car were demolished. Every coach was full of passengers and all were jarred and bruised, three seriously, but none fatally. A driving snow storm was in progress, and the passengers thrown out of the sleepers in their night clothing suffered from severe cold. The train left Ely fifteen hours late. The names of the injured are not known here.

Nine Rounds Fought.
DENVER, Col., Dec. 30.—Lawrence Farrell, of Denver, and Samuel Gaundecker, of Pennsylvania, fought nine rounds yesterday afternoon at a point in Wild county, about thirteen miles north of this city. Farrell weighed 178 pounds and Gaundecker twenty pounds less. Blood was drawn in the second round and Gaundecker furnished it. Gaundecker was rather inclined to force the fight, but after the fourth round he fought entirely on the defensive. In the ninth round Farrell staggered him with a hard blow on the neck, and before he could recover dealt him another terrific blow on the left eye with his open hand, knocked him almost senseless. For a moment Gaundecker staggered and struggled to keep on his feet, but almost instantly he fell backward and closed both eyes. After a second or two he crawled across the ring to the feet of Farrell, begging in the most piteous tones to be helped up. Time was called and their being no response from Gaundecker, the referee decided in favor of Farrell. Time twenty-five minutes.

Illinois War of Rates.
CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—The Illinois freight rate war is still being prosecuted with vigor. New moves are continually made by the contending factions, but as the rivals are not publishing regular tariffs, but make private rates to shippers, there is not as much excitement as there would be otherwise. What the exact rates from Chicago to East St. Louis and other Illinois towns are it is hard to tell, but it is generally admitted that they are very low. There is little freight being shipped west from Chicago to Illinois points, notwithstanding the low rates, but as far as can be ascertained the Chicago & Alton gets the bulk of the business. This route seems determined to keep 10 per cent. below competing lines.

Warning to Cigarette Smokers.
TROY, N. Y., Dec. 30.—Richard H. Barringer, a popular young man who has just died here, was a constant smoker of cigarettes. He became troubled with an affection of the heart which was followed by dropsy. Several physicians attended him and they all agreed that his system had been shattered by nicotine poisoning. He had a fine physique, and until recently was believed to have good prospects of a long life. After his death one of his veins burst and the blood therefrom was almost as black as ink.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Topics of the Times Given in a terse and spicy manner.

Some crank posted placards in Ottawa, Ont., denouncing Lord Lansdowne and calling upon the police to arrest him.

Russian and Hungarian miners at Hibernia, N. J., had a Christmas battle Monday, in which many were wounded and the Russians routed.

Laury Donovan, the bridge jumper, is in jail in England for attempting to jump from Clifton bridge, a structure 300 feet high. He says he will attempt the feat as soon as he gets out.

Col. C. D. Phillips, at Dallas, Ga., made severe strictures upon leading citizen N. T. Bullock to a jury. Bullock opened fire on the attorney, one shot entering each arm.

Col. Bennet Young, president of the Louisville Southern railroad, was elected honorary member of the Louisville board of trade. He is the youngest man upon whom the honor has ever conferred.

Freight engine locked horns with the Chicago & St. Louis Albert Lea express at Ely. Coaches were wrecked and three passengers badly hurt. The other travelers were forced out into the snowstorm in their night clothes and suffered severely.

At Martha's Ferry, O., Mrs. Coyne died after a three weeks' siege of typhoid fever and made an ante-mortem statement accusing her husband of hurrying the event by giving her poison. The woman is dead and Coyne has fled.

A patron of the Alexandria Natural Gas company, at Alexandria, Ind., has brought suit against the company for $2,000 damages. He used gas for fuel purposes, and claims that the company increased the force, thereby setting his house on fire.

Engagement is announced of Ensign Daniel W. Edgar, of the United States navy, son of Mrs. Jerome Bonaparte, to Miss Victoria Emory, daughter of the late Gen. William H. Emory and sister of Capt. W. H. Emory, commander of the Thetis in the Greeley expedition. The marriage will take place next spring.

MEXICAN NEWS

Police Breaking Up Dens of Witches—The Wealth of the Church.

CITY OF MEXICO, Dec. 30.—Recently in the capitol the police broke up a den of witches. In the room they found a crucifix which the witches one after another were flogging unmercifully, a lot of candles burning upside down, and an assortment of puppets made a fancied resemblance of various persons, some of which were pierced with pins, others had a black beetle fastened over the heart and others had a snake tied around the throat. Witches and their uncanny stuff were bundled off to the police station.

Francisco Vega recently died in Guadalajara at the age of one hundred years.

The Monitor says that the clergy of Mexico have over $10,000,000 out at interest in the country and abroad and that they own over three hundred houses in the central districts of the capital.

Recently, at Apam, a man blindfolded walked a beam stretched from the steeple to the cupola of the church.

St. Ignacio Chupitlan, the founder of the Tligo XIX, one of the oldest papers published in Mexico, died the other day in the capital. Large deposits of quicksilver have been discovered near Mascota, Jalisco.
